

German decarbonisation targets requires significant expansion of renewable energy, also in the heating and transport sectors

Figure 5

