

The yields of many wind turbines decline by different factors relative to an individual turbine

Figure 6

Note: Based on typical values for the annual means for the North Sea. Actual values show large variations due to varying wind conditions.