

The KEBA method uses the kinetic energy budget of the atmosphere surrounding the wind farm region to estimate an effective wind speed and its associated wind energy yields

Figure 7

